

A Journey into the Sacred Arms of the Mother Earth with Luzclara and Jaes

by horseback in the Andes Mountains
Cordillera of Cajón del Maipo, Chile
December 6 – 15th, 2013

Join us for a celebration of women's mysteries connecting with our Pachamama, bringing healing to every part of your being. We'll assist you in your transformational process with herbs, sound, water, fire and pure light. You'll participate in ancient healing ceremonies of the traditional Machitún from the Mapuche tradition and you'll experience how we invite the spirits of the Earth to join with us. Through rites of passage you will release what no longer serves you, creating an opportunity to discover many gifts that are waiting to expand you into living your most fulfilling life.

Arriving Dec 6th into the warm Chilean spring season, we will have a day of rest and introductions. We will set our intentions and share our waking dreams. Dec 7th we will prepare for our mountain journey with ceremony. Dec 8-12th we will ascend the mountain on horseback to our warm comfortable base camp at 6500 ft. From there we can make day trips to valleys full of wild flowers, virgin waters, waterfalls, with condors and eagles dancing for us in the sky. We will do our ceremonies of purification, sweat lodges and healing with the waters. We will have time to spend in solitude meditating and listening to the Earth Mother. Dec 13 & 14th we will return to our lodging in San Jose Maipo continuing our sharing and ceremony. There will be optional massages and other care to replenish your body, mind and soul. Optional individual healing sessions will be offered as also the opportunity to acquire a Mapuche drum, a kultrún, that comes with the proper ceremony of initiation in the indigenous medicine way. Returning to our home destinations on Dec 15th.
